

NO MOVE TO ARBITRATE MINE STRIKE

REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN CITY IS PREDICTED

PRESIDENT WILL NOT ACT UNLESS LEADERS CALL OFF WALKOUT

Wilson's Plans for New Industrial Conference Also Held Up Pending Settlement of Mine Workers' Trouble--Government Maintains Attitude That Strike Was Illegally Called.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The coal miners are willing to negotiate with the coal operators on either the basis of the present selling price of coal or upon the basis of the cost of necessities, Edgar Wallace, Washington representative of the United Mine Workers of America, declared this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—President Wilson will make no further efforts to arbitrate the coal strike unless the strike leaders call off the strike, it was announced at the white house today.

The president stands ready to appoint a tribunal to settle the differences between the miners and operators, it was stated, but he will not name any tribunal while the strike is in progress.

The president's plans for a new industrial conference also are being held up pending settlement of the coal strike, it was announced. The president has approved fifteen members of the new commission but will not call them into session during the strike, it was stated. It was believed that any such conference at this time would be unable to meet industrial issues without confusing general issues with the issue of the coal strike, just as the steel strike issue was thrown into the first industrial conference.

Plan to Enforce Law

The government stands ready to do all in its power to bring about a settlement of the controversy between the miners and the operators, declared Attorney General Palmer this afternoon, "but in the meantime the law must be enforced and combinations to stop production will not be tolerated.

The attorney general's statement was made in response to a telegram received by President Wilson from the United Mine Workers of America, union 3768 at Glencoe, O., protesting against the administration's attitude. The attorney general's telegram was in line with the policy announced at the white house today that the strike, "a combination to stop production," must be called off before the government will act.

The government will maintain its attitude that the strike has been illegally called, it was stated at the white house today and in view of this the president could not begin arbitration proceedings with the strike in progress.

The president is closely following the situation, it was stated, and is ready to take any further steps necessary, but until the strike is called off the government can not treat with the strikers.

The attitude of the president has not changed since he issued his statement a week ago on the coal strike, it was stated at the white house. He still believes the strike to be "unlawful" and does not see how he can negotiate with the miners while they persist in a strike.

Little hope has been held out here that the miners would ask for arbitration under the direction of the president, but the announcement from the white house indicated that the president will turn a deaf ear to all propositions for arbitration by a tribunal appointed by the president while the strike is in progress.

The president's decision is in line with the cabinet's policy of treating the entire strike as illegal and taking steps necessary for protecting the public where necessary, without considering the merits of the original controversy which led to the "unlawful" strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 3.—"Not a man" returned to the mines today, according to dispatches to the International News Service from Linton, Bicknell and other points in the heart of the Indiana bituminous coal fields. Miners in the Bicknell district, as well as the operators, are "sitting tight" today, hoping for mutual agreement whereby the mines can be opened, it was said. It is doubtful, both operators and miners said, if the men would heed a recall of the original conference.

NO CHANGE MONDAY IN TIE-UP OF COAL MINES IN COUNTY

With East Liverpool's meager supply of coal practically exhausted, no change developed Monday in the coal situation in this vicinity following the walkout last Friday afternoon of over 1,000 soft coal miners in Columbiana county under the nationwide bituminous strike call issued from international headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America.

Three carloads of coal consigned from the Allegheny county coal fields to the Enterprise Coal company here were sidetracked at the water tower in the West End Monday. The railroad company officials here have refused to place the cars in the yards of the coal company for unloading and distribution. The cars, the coal company officials say, would meet the more pressing domestic orders for a few days.

John Saxon, Salineville, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, declined to consent upon the local aspects of the coal strike Monday, declaring that the recent injunction filed against the strike leaders prohibits them from making any reference to any phase of the situation. Saxon and Percy Tetlow of Salem, international statistician of the union, were in Indianapolis last week conferring with union heads.

All county miners, who answered the strike call Saturday, remained away from the mines Monday.

EXAMINER HITS COURT CLERK AND AUDITOR IN HIS REPORT

Points Out Certain Illegal Practices In Court House.

TERM "ABUSIVE" IS USED

George B. Williams and Bert Burns Get Place In Summary.

That certain illegal practices of other county officials were indirectly instrumental in the accumulation of an alleged deficit of $5,500.29 existing in the accounts of this office," and adds that "no one but he (Davidson) received and disbursed any of the public and trust funds of the sheriff's office up to the time he left," the report says.

"The examination of this office," the report continues, "led us into other offices where we discovered that certain things are not being done in accordance with the provisions of the law and which we have taken the liberty to mention in this report."

Under a summary of illegal practices, the county auditor, Bert Burns, is credited with:

Failure to record the sheriff's bond as required by law; issuing warrant to sheriff for duplicated lost costs and other illegal items; issuing warrants to the sheriff under the certificate of the clerk of courts for mileage on jury venires which were served by mail.

Sheriff William Dalrymple is taken to task for:

Failure to account for all fees collected from the county; failure to account for all fees received for serving foreign writs; paying out trust funds to persons in excess of the amount due; failure to collect poundage on money made on executions and sales and other malpractices.

George B. Williams, the clerk of courts, the report says, keeps no index to his cash book as required by the bureau; does not tax costs separately as required by law; certifies to the correctness of the sheriff's lost costs without verifying them with his docket, thereby misleading the county commissioners and county auditor in the allowance and payment of erroneous bills; certifying mileage out of the county treasury for the sheriff on jury venires served by mail and other so-called careless methods of accounting.

The county commissioners, according to the report, have allowed their index to the journal to lag one year behind the date of business entries on record; allowed bill to sheriff for duplicated lost costs and other items and have allowed the sheriff's quarterly expense accounts without being properly itemized.

Under a section of the report devoted to "illegal and irregular practices which in no way affect the deficit reported in the preceding chapter but which should be abandoned or corrected at once, the survey takes Clerk of Courts George Williams to task for unverified certification of bills for the sheriff. Fees amounting to $77.59 were paid into the sheriff's fee fund, the report cites, but there is no authority of law for their collection from the county.

"Clerk Williams," the report states, "admitted that they are not a proper

ARREST SUSPECT IN DARING BANK ROBBERY

SITE FOR BANK IS PURCHASED

The First National bank Monday closed a deal for the purchase of the Rinehart property, corner of Fifth street and Crook alley.

The consideration was not announced.

SAYS DEMOCRATS ARE BUNGLING COAL STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—"There would be a political and industrial revolution in this country if the government continues its injunction activities against labor," said Wm. H. Johnston, president of the International Machinists' union, on his return here today from Toledo, O.

"The Democratic administration has shown itself a bungler, and it is bungling very badly the coal strike."

C. OF C. ROOMS ARE MERCY HEADQUARTERS

The Chamber of Commerce rooms have been made the headquarters for the three-day Red Cross roll call drive. Members of the drive executive committee will remain at the rooms during Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to tabulate returns of the canvass in the 18 precincts of the city.

URGES CONTROL OF MERCHANT MARINE

WORKERS TO VOTE ON N. B. OF O. P. AFFILIATION

OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR RED CROSS HERE TUESDAY

One Hundred and Fifty Women Will Make Canvass.

THREE-DAY DRIVE

Schools Will Be Invaded to Enroll Junior Members.

Actual solicitation of members for the American Red Cross in East Liverpool will be launched early Tuesday morning when nearly 150 women, organized into precinct canvassing groups, will conduct a whirlwind three-day drive in connection with the National Third Red Cross Roll Call.

No quota has been established for the Red Cross workers here. Adult membership fees of $1 for the year will be solicited in every home and business house, while members of the Junior Red Cross will invade the public schools in an effort to secure a 100 per cent enrollment.

Meetings of ward and precinct teams were held last week at the homes of the four ward chairmen at which final instructions were given and campaign supplies distributed. These group meetings supplanted the usual general meeting of campaign workers held just before previous drives opened.

A special Red Cross film arrived here Saturday and will be exhibited in all local theatres and movie houses during the three-day solicitation. Four Minute Men will speak in the theatres this week in the interest of the campaign.

Red Cross workers will station themselves at each voting poll during the general election Tuesday and solicit from the electors as they arrive at the polls to cast their ballots. An appeal was made Monday for the women to report to the polls early in the day in order to make their canvass as thorough as possible.

Posters signifying that the holder has enrolled 100 per cent in the Red Cross will be given to every business house and industrial works showing a complete enrollment in the American Red Cross. Red buttons will be given every man, woman, and child taking out a membership.

A rush on hunting licenses is anticipated in the office of County Auditor John T. Burns around November 15, when the open season for rabbits begins. Rabbits will be hunted from November 15 to January.

HILBERT SAYS 4,400 VOTERS WILL BALLOT IN MUNY FIGHT

Re-election of Mayor Wilson and Remainder of Ticket Forecasted.

GET NINE BALLOTS

Expect Big Dry Majority In City and County.

MAYOR WILSON IS FAVORITE IN BETTING

Mayor J. S. Wilson, Republican nominee, was the favorite in the pre-election betting here Monday. Odds of three to one that Wilson would be re-elected were offered in an uptown bowling alley, with no takers.

One bet of $100 to $15 was made shortly before noon Monday.

A sweeping Republican victory, returning to office Mayor J. S. Wilson and the entire Republican ticket, will be registered by East Liverpool electors at the general election Tuesday, according to a prediction made Monday by J. S. Hilbert, chief deputy of the board of elections.

Between 4,400 and 4,500 voters will be cast in East Liverpool proper, Mr. Hilbert estimated. Weather conditions, however will have an important bearing on the number of ballots voted, he added.

A comfortable majority for the dry forces in the three state issues advanced by the wets is also predicted in both East Liverpool and Columbiana county.

Nine ballots will be handed each city elector as he enters the polls. Three ballots will contain the four proposals of the wets and the classification of property measure, one the proposed two-mill tax for county road purposes, one the two-platoon plan for East Liverpool firemen, a municipal ballot containing the Republican, Democratic and Socialist nominees, a board of education ballot, a judicial ticket bearing the candidates for justice of the peace and a township ticket.

The polls will open at 6:30 a. m., and close at 6:30 p. m., city time.

Registrars will be at their respective precincts Monday from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m., to receive and grant transfers. A last opportunity to qualify for the general election will be given electors Monday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock when the election board will

WETS AND DRIES ARE CONFIDENT

Gibson and White, Leaders of Rival Forces, Optimistic.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3.—Both sides are predicting victory in the Ohio wet and dry election tomorrow.

L. H. Gibson, manager of the Ohio Home Rule association claims the four proposals against prohibition will be approved and the Crabbe prohibition enforcement act will be snubbed under.

Sixty thousand wet will be Hamilton county's majority, says Eugene Hahn, Cincinnati wet leader.

Ohio will give a prohibition of 100,000, declared James A. White, manager of the Ohio Dry Federation.

Hamilton county's wet majority of 53,000 will be materially reduced, says Thomas M. Hare, local head of the Anti-Saloon League, says.

The wets are especially hopeful regarding defeat of the Crabbe enforcement bill.

nal strike order if they felt it was forced by the government, but if the order were rescinded, voluntarily by John L. Lewis, acting president of the Mine Workers, they would respond.

The government will ask that the original strike edict be recalled in its application for permanent injunction against the miners' officials here next Saturday.

Miners in the Bicknell field do not expect to win their demand for 60 per cent increase in wages, it was admitted today, but they do expect a substantial increase. Neither will they press the demand for a six-hour day.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 3. — The third day of the coal strike in Illinois saw an unchanged situation from that of the opening day Saturday. Not a mine is working. No disturbances are reported at either union or coal operators' headquarters.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, visiting in Springfield today, refused to discuss the strike. Mr. Lewis left here at 6:40 o'clock this morning for Indianapolis.

Members of the Illinois executive miners' union board will meet at noon today to discuss the strike situation, it is said. It was learned that federal officials with copies of the Indianapolis injunction will be on hand to serve the writ, as none of the state union officials have as yet been approached with the documents. The writs will first be filed in the federal court here.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Reports from several of the big coal mining centers near Pittsburgh today showed no change in the strike situation. The union miners who obeyed the strike instructions on Saturday were still out today and no attempt was made to resume operations.

The strikers gained in strength in the Cambria and Clearfield districts of the central Pennsylvania field today. A few operations that were working on Saturday were closed tight today. The Somerset field, employing 14,000 non-union miners, was operating in full.

AN EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION

I take this method of thanking my many friends for the many considerations and courtesies shown me, while making my campaign for city solicitor. To have seen and talked to each of you personally has, of course, been impossible. To those whom I have seen, the things for which I stand, you are already familiar with and I want to say to you, win, lose or draw, I will continue to stand for them. Those of you whom I have not seen, permit me to say that if I am elected city solicitor, the legal affairs of the city will be taken care of to the best of my ability and I will always endeavor to carry out the motto, "The greatest good for the greatest number," rather than "consideration for only a few."

Again thanking you and assuring you that I will appreciate your support at the polls tomorrow, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

SITUATION IN STRIKE OF COAL MINERS

The full effect of the national coal strike was felt Monday. Officials of the United Mine Workers of America claimed that few, if any of the miners who obeyed the strike order Saturday morning, had gone back to work.

Despite reports to the contrary, no decisive steps have been taken towards mediation—at least openly.

Optimism was reported in official circles in Washington over telegrams to Attorney General Palmer indicating that some of the strikers would return to work.

There was no change in the situation in the great Pennsylvania bituminous fields according to Pittsburgh advices, but production was not cut off entirely as 14,000 non-union miners were reported at work in the Somerset region.

Union officials at Columbus declared that the forty thousand organized miners who obeyed the strike order in the Ohio coal fields "would remain out."

Union and non-union miners were said to be working a number of small "wagon," or private owned mines, in the coal fields around Sullivan, Ind. A number of non-union miners are still at work in West Virginia.

ANTLERS LOSE GAME IN RAIN Playing in an almost continual downpour of rain the Wellsville Antlers were defeated Saturday afternoon at New Kensington, Pa., by the Wear-Ever Scholastics. The score was 20 to 0.

Dornick, fullback, and other stars were out of the lineup. Miles and O'Connor were taken from the engagement by injuries. It was believed O'Connor had a broken arm, but examination showed it to be a severe sprain.

The Antlers were up again one of the fastest independent football teams in western Pennsylvania, and so elated that they held them to 20 points, considering the absence of several of the regulars and the wet, soggy field. The summary:

HIGH GRIDDERS BATTLE TO TIE

Salem high school failed to crush the defense of the orange and black squad here Saturday, and as a result Coach Van Tilburg's men played their first tie game of the season, the score being 0 to 0.

Central park was a mass of mud and water and made fast play impossible. The visitors outplayed the home club in the fore part of the engagement, but lost their power when the orange and black got busy in the last part of the game. Arbaugh lost a chance to score when, on the last play, with the ball within a yard of Salem's line, he fumbled. The summary:

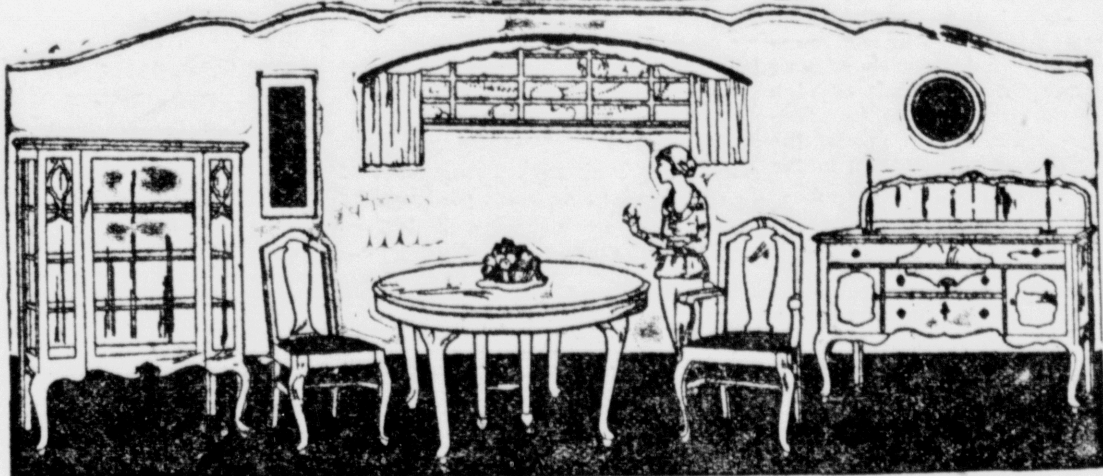

Wellsville..... Salem. Zurbuch.....L. E. Webber Kerr.....L. T. Conkle Mick.....L. G. C. Resler Nelson.....C. Miller

Among one of the most important purchases of the season we find these charming Queen Anne suites which are indeed models of the furniture-craftsman's art. The dining table is of a generous size; the china cabinet is handsomely decorated on its side panels and in the center; and the buffet is something to be marvelled at with its full-length mirror and panel ornamentations. There are five side chairs and one armchair, all with padded leather seats. In mahogany or walnut finish.

The Living Room Requires Furniture That Radiates Beauty and Comfort

To combine these two qualities with the greatest degree of success has seemed less of a problem in these caned-back suites where beauty and comfort are perfectly blended. Cane and mahogany are tastefully used in the construction of its frame, while the upholstery may be had in either velour or tapestry according to individual preference. The Queen Anne design is faithfully reproduced in these three pieces.

60 WORKERS ON 12 CREWS IDLE

Approximately 60 men, comprising 12 train crews, have been temporarily laid off by officials of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad shops here, as the result of the nation-wide strike of coal miners. On account of the fact that there are about 16 mine runs out of the local shops which were stopped when the miners ceased to work, the men found themselves out of employment.

Unless the strike is prolonged, the shops will not suffer by the miners' suspension of activities, said railroad officials. The majority of the men laid off, it is said, were residents of Wellsville.

Quite a number of the Ohio valley industries have been crippled by the strike. Practically all the industries in the Toronto district, with the exception of the Kaul Clay company, depend on coal as fuel. This plant operates its own coal mine and the men there are still working. It is said, The American Sewer Pipe company, The Hartje Paper company and other clay concerns, it is claimed, have a limited supply of coal on hand.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

With nine ballots—three on state-wide questions, one on a tax levy for road purposes, one containing an initiative proposal for the two-platoon system in the fire department, municipal, board of education, judicial and township tickets—submitted, East Liverpool electors should study the issues before casting their vote when they enter the polls Tuesday.

Two of the three state ballots—one short and the second long—contain four proposals, all presented by the liquor interests for the purpose of tearing down the legislation which has outlawed the saloon. The bar-room forces are seeking to nullify state-wide prohibition, adopted by an overwhelming vote in Ohio last fall; aiming to reject the General Assembly's ratification of the National prohibition amendment; planning to revive the open saloon by the legalization of the sale of beverages containing 2.75 per cent of alcohol, and hoping to prevent the Crabbe prohibition enforcement bill from becoming effective. For the best interests of the state, the wet proposals should be defeated.

Aside from voting on the prohibition issues and on a third state proposal—the classification of property amendment—East Liverpool electors will decide the fate of the plan to introduce 10 and 14-hour turns for city firemen, cast ballots on the commissioners' proposed two-mill tax levy for road building in the county, name four justices of the peace, three members of the school board, vote for Liverpool township officials and name the men who will conduct municipal affairs for the next two years.

If East Liverpool citizens want a business administration—an executive always on the side of right when it comes to a question of law and order, they will return Joseph S. Wilson, Republican nominee, to the mayor's office for a second term. The present mayor, by reason of his clean record during the past 22 months is entitled to re-election.

The entire municipal Republican ticket is made up of men of the calibre required for the conduct of the city's business. No mistake will be made in voting the straight Republican ballot.

THE STREET CAR FARE ORDINANCE.

The operation of an A-1 inter-city trolley service or bankruptcy—this is the question involved in Wellsville's referendum election Tuesday on the councilmanic ordinance providing for a fare increase from five to ten cents on the through ride between Wellsville and East Liverpool. Because the vote in the neighboring city will nullify or approve a similar ordinance adopted here, East Liverpool is interested in the verdict.

Recognizing the hopelessness of the street railway situation unless additional revenue was forthcoming for the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company, the Wellsville and East Liverpool city councils enacted identic ordinances, which were expected to give the owners of the street car system sufficient income to meet operating expenses. Under the provisions of the measure, the increased fare was to be effective for a period of 90 days, when accountants were to determine whether the additional revenue was sufficient to enable the operation of the line on at least a self-sustaining basis.

Both Wellsville and East Liverpool are dependent in a great measure upon the street railways. And there is no argument over the fact that the cost of operation of these lines has increased by leaps during the past few years, while the company's revenue has been at a standstill. Reports show that the monthly losses, especially during the past year, have been enormous. That this burden cannot be borne much longer is admitted. Getting down to brass tacks, the company must have more income or, to use the language of the prize ring, throw up the sponge.

And if a receivership results, what then? The court will take charge of the line and insist that it be operated upon a self-sustaining basis. And this means either a greater increase in fares than proposed in the ordinances enacted by the Wellsville and East Liverpool councils or a curtailment of the service.

Wellsville electors should give unbiased consideration to the street railway situation before marking their ballots Tuesday.

YOUR HEART AND YOUR DOLLAR.

"All you need is a heart and a dollar." It can be the same old heart that it was last year and the year before that, but it must be another dollar.

The Red Cross annual membership drive is on, and in spite of high prices and decreased production, it asks no more of any one than it did before.

There is little need to plead the cause of this great society. It is known by its works. It may be that there is lacking some of the romantic appeal which stirred our hearts during the war, but the Red Cross does no less great a work in peace. Right now it is conducting relief operations in seventeen European countries, and preparing for relief and emergency work on a tremendous scale in this country.

Not to give the dollar would be the difficult thing, and every subscriber as he buys his membership will only wish that at least he were twins.

CHINA'S TROUBLESOME ARMY.

Demobilizing a big army is always a problem, but in China it is more complicated than usual. The Chinese government wants to disband its army of 800,000 men, and can't do it, because it has no money for the purpose. Worse still, it has no money for the soldiers' back pay—and they must be paid when they are discharged. So, in lieu of any other solution, the government is obliged to keep those 800,000 men under arms, at the expense of the nation, indefinitely.

There seems to be nothing much for the soldiers to do. There is no fighting, and they cannot undertake any public work of importance, though railroads and irrigation projects are needed, because there is no money for tools and materials. So that army is eating its head off and continuing to run up its over-due pay at the rate of $8 to $12 a month per man.

Surely somebody ought to lend China enough money to get that army off her hands.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. MCINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. — Broadway has a new effulgence with Gaby Deslys back on the boulevard. Gaby out walking these days puts a show case at Tiffany's to shame. She is fairly dripping with jewels; literally from head to her feet, for she wears jewels in her hair and in her heels.

Each day she appears in a new fur dress—fur being the last scream in Paris. The most observing reporter noted her return to America in the following description in the Evening Sun.

"Gaby arrived on the French liner France. Her costume was of fur, her stockings were green and of exceptionally delicate texture. A neat pair of diamond garters completed her costume."

Gaby is reported to have brought with her the $1,000,000 necklace given to her years ago by King Manuel of Portugal. At least her press agent said so and a press agent will not lie. That would be unfair to the public.

Harry Pilcer, her dancing partner, who was a former East Side boy of the Avenue A. cabarets, is with Gaby. He too has cut a sartorial splash on Broadway. He wears the tightest sleeves, the highest slashed coat and the niftiest hat that have been seen from Thirty-fourth to the Circle.

If ever a person was actually lifted to stardom by a free puff in the press it was Gaby. She owes her fame entirely to Phil Simms, then a Paris correspondent for a press association. Simms was knocking about the cafes looking for stories.

He learned that Manuel was paying attention to Gaby, who was not even featured in a Paris musical show. The story gained momentum after the original cable to America—and zip! Gaby became the star of an American musical comedy. She is here this time to flicker on the films. Costume designers say that no one has ever been discovered who can wear gorgeous gowns with the sang froid of Gaby.

All over Manhattan appear reminders of the Great Adventure. One may now lunch at the St. Michel restaurant or send clothes to be pressed by the Vesle tailor. But it is up in dark Harlem, in the haunts of a race whose every day speech is replete with mouth-filling epithets, that the really personal touch is found. The A. E. F. Shoe Shining Parlor proclaims that an ex-Hell Fighter is ready for civilian business; the Argentine Florist blooms with asters and gay cosmos; and a bright green sign with fanciful orange lettering boasts that the flight of steep steps going straight down from the sidewalk will lead a customer to the "Buffalo Dug-out Ice-man."

I happened to be in one of the huge buildings that dot the heavens in the financial district the other day. The man at the gate—the point of contact for the visitor—was a man near 60. He seemed above an office boy's job and yet there was something skillful about his handling of the visitors. He was the soul of courtesy and the impression one gained of the establishment that employed him was pleasant. But he looked more like a retired business man. The truth was that at one time he was one of New York's most successful merchants. He failed and this job was the first thing presented to him. But he made such an important job of it that he is paid $5,000 a year. More business is lost in New York through the impertinence of young office boys than will ever be realized.

There is something eminently fair about the following personal ad in a New York newspaper: "I will not be responsible for the debts of others. I will pay only my own.—J. T. Litt."

SOME CHAPERON

By MARGARET L. AHERN.

Business was always suspended promptly at one o'clock on Saturdays in the law offices of Spencer and Royd. Notebooks were tucked away, and typewriter desks were hastily closed. Even Mr. Spencer, the senior partner, usually hurried away to the country club for lunch and an afternoon of golf.

But today he lingered at his desk, although Miss Carroll, his secretary, was preparing to leave. Jimmie, the office boy, was bustling about, attending to the closing of the office with his customary Saturday alacrity. For Saturday was the day when Jimmie and his best girl, as he called Helen Carroll, had their weekly party—the lady financing the affair, for Jimmie's present remuneration did not permit of such lavish expenditures for luxuries. Helen Carroll's kindness was one of the pleasant topics of conversation in the office.

"Where is it today, Jimmie?" asked Mr. Spencer, with an indulgent smile, as the boy stood in the doorway waiting impatiently for Helen.

Jimmie grinned and answered with his after-business hours familiarity. "Oh, our car is waiting to take us to the hotel for a little five-course lunch, and then to the matinee."

"Which means," Helen interposed, with a pretty blush, "a lunch-counter and the movies. I'm all ready, Jimmie. Come along. Good afternoon, Mr. Spencer."

The senior partner sat in thoughtful silence after their departure. If only his son had fallen in love with a girl like Miss Carroll, instead of with Judith Spalding!

Meanwhile, Helen and Jimmie were hurrying up the street merrily discussing what they would have for lunch.

A passing soldier diverted Helen's attention. She stopped abruptly to gaze after him.

"Doesn't he look lonely, Jimmie?" she said, with pity in her voice and eyes. "And hungry, too. Perhaps he hasn't any money for his lunch. Oh, Jimmie, do you suppose we ought to invite him to go with us? I've just got paid and I have plenty of money with me."

Jimmie was all enthusiasm at the idea. Without waiting for another word from Helen, he ran after the soldier and tapped his arm.

"Me and my lady friend want to know if you'll eat with us. She says you look hungry," he spluttered excitedly. "And maybe she'll take you to the movies, too."

Jimmie introduced his new friend without much ceremony.

"His name's Jimmie, too, and he's got three service stripes, and he says he's hungry, and he'd love to go to the movies."

That was the beginning of a most wonderful afternoon for Sergeant Jim. As charming a girl as he had met in his travels, with golden hair and laughing gray eyes and a complexion like apple blossoms—and an irrepressible youngster—helped him to a precarious perch on a stool at a lunch-counter. The young lady, with tender solicitude, insisted that he have something substantial to eat, but he explained that he wasn't really starving. So he shared their regular Saturday luncheon and enjoyed the apple pie and ice cream fully as much as Jimmie. Afterwards they had gayly purchased a box of caramels. Then they had hurried to the movies. There, while Jimmie gave all his attention to the candy and the screen, Helen and Sergeant Jim conversed in low tones, for the most part oblivious of the silent drama being enacted before their eyes. He told her something of his experiences abroad, and of the battle in which he had received his wounds, from which he was almost recovered. And Helen told him softly of Jimmie, the oldest of four children, and how the lad manfully trudged to and from work every day to save carfare, and carried unappetizing and meager lunches in order to turn over his pay untouched to his mother.

At five o'clock they said a regretful "good-by" in front of the theater, but not until after Sergeant Jim had managed to draw Jimmie aside for a moment and persuaded him to reveal the young lady's name.

The next Monday morning there was an air of subdued excitement in the office. Mr. Spencer's son, recently home from overseas, was starting in his career as junior partner in the firm. When the young man in uniform, walking with crutches, was introduced to his father's secretary, she was so obviously startled that explanations were in order.

Jimmie was too excited by the turn of events to do much work that day and it is doubtful if Helen or the new junior partner accomplished their share. Shortly before five that afternoon, after announcing to Helen his intention of taking her and Jimmie home in his auto, Sergeant Jim told his father what he was doing.

At first Mr. Spencer was indignant. "I'll have none of that, Jim," he said sternly. "Miss Carroll is too fine a girl to be trifled with. And what would your friend Judith say? Aren't you practically engaged to her?"

"When a girl tells you to go away because you can't take her to a dance your liking for her ends then and there, dad," young Spencer explained. "And, dad" (his eyes met his father's honestly), "I think Miss Carroll is the nicest girl I ever met."

Almost every stout woman envies the woman with a slender figure. This need not be—for a Rengo Belt Reducing Corset will give to any medium stout or stout woman the lines of the prevailing fashionable figure. This is brought about by reducing the appearance of flesh over the abdomen, back and hips.

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets keep their shape. They do not stretch. This is good news to the medium stout or stout woman who is "hard" on corsets and who frequently has to discard half-worn corsets because they have lost their shape.

NATTY SUIT MADE OF SILK DUVETYN

The crispness of Autumn has somehow been woven into this soft duvetyne suit for truttet wear. The coat is cut on snug lines with a flaring peplum. The skirt is, of course, built on straight lines, with just room enough for comfort. Neither trimming nor ornament is necessary to achieve the smart and perfectly groomed appearance this suit will give the wearer. The seal collar is more for comfort than for trimming, but it adds a smart color contrast to the sand-toned duvetyne.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

To Our Patrons

Owing to the scarcity and short supply of sugar and to the fact that we are unable to get enough sugar, we are forced to discontinue our business.

To bake enough goods to supply our demand we must have from 500 to 800 pounds of sugar per week. We can only produce now 100 to 200 lbs. per week, which is not enough.

After the sugar shortage is over we hope to reopen with a more up-to-date and exclusive pastry shop than we have had.

Thanking our friends and patrons for their patronage.

DRY VICTORY IS PREDICTED

In a statement issued Monday, S. P. Ankrum, manager of the Columbiana County Dry Maintenance league predicted an overwhelming victory for the Ohio dry forces at the general election, November 4.

"The four proposals of the wets," Mr. Ankrum said, "have awakened the people of our entire county, as indeed they should when the great benefits coming from prohibition everywhere.

"Columbiana county stands today the third highest dry in the eighty-eight counties. Her majority dry last year was 3502 which we are quite sure will be materially increased this year.

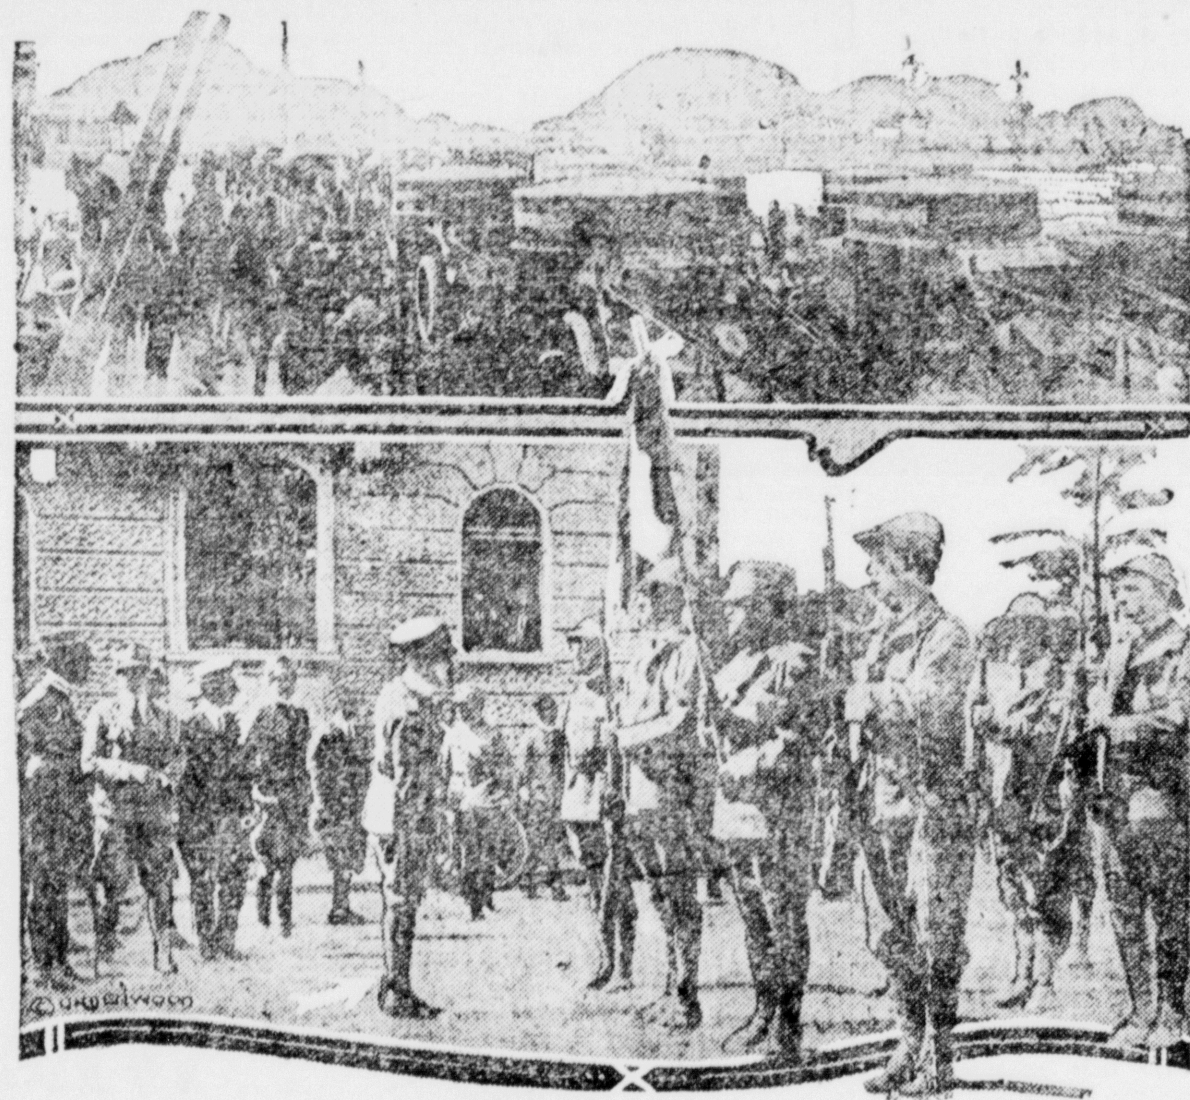

"For months we have heard the story from the wets, 'Vote our Protests November 4.' Now we think that is just what you should do. Look all around and see if you can see some good results from a saloonless state. See if you cannot find some of your friends that are sober all the time that were not before May 27. See if you cannot find men more fit for work every day; men more orderly on the streets and street cars and in fact wherever you go. If you find jails empty, if you find children better clothed and fed, if you find men paying their debts that they could not while drinking, if you find fewer murders, less crime and fewer drunks everywhere, why shouldn't you vote your protests against all four of the wet proposals?"

"All our industrial centers are busy in this big country. Go out to the farm. Go to the road contractors the street, home and factory contractors and the one crying need is more men, more men everywhere. All are busy. And, inasmuch as the old rounders have all gone to work and we are still short of men, to return to the old wet regime would be the crime of the age.

"Do you know that the eyes of the nation are on us? If Ohio votes wet we take one of the states out that was amendment to the constitution and another will have to be substituted and we may be wet another year till a new declaration comes into effect. More than this, the entire world is looking at us. America must be the leader in making the world dry. Ohio, the mother of presidents and the rising place of two martyred presidents, honored by God with the richest soil and the best of people must not fail the world.

"No better men live anywhere than the newspaper men of Columbiana county. All of them ready to assist in our advertising matter. Not a wet

Gabriele d'Annunzio, the Italian poet, is still in control of the situation at Fiume, despite the appeals of the allies, including his own government, to get out. The Italian battleship "Dante Alighieri" is anchored in Fiume harbor, but refuses to fire on the rebels in the city. In the upper photo, which shows the vessel, armored motor-cars are seen in the foreground. In the lower picture the poet is seen addressing volunteer Fiume soldiers, who are drawn up with their banners.

The Prize Fish Yarn.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Pa. — Hank Orvin, who lives near here, is the author of the prime fish story of the season. He was seated along Buffalo creek watching his line, he said, when there was a commotion in the water. A three-pound bass jumped out of the creek and into his basket on the bank. His theory is that the bass was pursuing a minnow. A minnow was found in the bass' stomach when the fisherman cut it open.

CENSUS ENUMERATORS ARE WANTED HERE

That East Liverpool seemingly has not sufficient pride to exhibit much concern over the approaching fourteenth national census, is the opinion expressed by Alan E. McLane, Steubenville, supervisor of census for the 17th Ohio census district in a letter received here Monday.

Many precincts in the city have not yet been assigned census enumerators, McLane writes, although every effort has been made by him to secure census takers. Actual taking of the census will start January 2. Applicants for positions of census enumerators must file their applications with Alan E. McLane, Steubenville.

WAVES RED PETTICOAT AND PREVENTS WRECK

ROME, Ga. — Waving his wife's red flannel petticoat, Morgan Smith, of Lavender, Ga., flagged a passenger train on the Central of Georgia and brought it to a stop within a few feet of a broken rail, thereby preventing a disastrous wreck. A southbound freight train had evidently broken the rail. Young Smith, who resides nearby, was passing the place, noted the break and knowing that the train was due made haste to improvise a danger signal and flag the north bound train that was laden with hundreds of pleasure seekers bound for the Chattanooga county fair at Summerville.

Who Wants the Saloon Back?

★ "2.75" ★ THE CRIME OF THE AGE

TWO AMENDMENTS to the State Constitution are up for vote November 4. The passage of either one will put beer in a class with pop and lemonade and let it be sold without license, at any time, any place.

EVERY SODA FOUNTAIN AN OPEN SALOON

Not since the fight on booze began has there been a bolder, more cruel counter-attack put forth by selfish wet interests than the present attempt to take the lid off "2.75."

Beer containing 2.75% of alcohol by WEIGHT contains 3.45% by VOLUME (U. S. Dept. Agr. table). Conferees in Congress have set one-half of one per cent by volume as the limit for non-intoxicating drinks.

A glass of "2.75" contains three spoonfuls of alcohol.

Three glasses have the kick of two drinks of whiskey.

"2.75" IS INTOXICATING. Writing a lie into Ohio's constitution will not change the fact

Declare "2.75" non-intoxicating, and any soda fountain or corner grocery may sell it openly.

Children may have their choice between real booze and strawberry soda.

Your child may sit at the soda fountain or bar alongside the tough with his "2.75."

Beer saloons can operate 24 hours a day in any neighborhood, seven days a week, the year 'round.

Let the manhood and womanhood of Ohio arise in their might and protect their homes, their sons and daughters, against the return of the saloon.

★ Brewers' ★ Hopeless Fight ★

In Ohio last November the Prohibition Amendment to the Constitution was adopted by a majority of 25,759.

Now the Brewers are trying as usual to stage a "come back" by asking the adoption of another constitutional amendment PERMITTING THE MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF 2 1/4 PER CENT BEER.

They Have Tried This in Other States With Poor Success. IN NO STATE HAVE THE BREWERS WON

IN COLORADO

1916, Prohibition ADOPTED, Majority . . . . . 68,624
1919, Beer Amendment REJECTED Majority 207,526

These Four States Rejected the Brewers' Proposition by an average GAIN in THEIR DRY VOTE OF 400 PER CENT

IN ONTARIO, CANADA

By a large majority of 250,000, Brewers' proposals similar to those pending in Ohio have just been voted down—the great majority being attributed largely to the votes of the returned Canadian soldiers. HISTORY WILL REPEAT ITSELF IN OHIO

IN OHIO

1918, Prohibition ADOPTED, Majority . . . . . 25,759
1919, Beer Amendment REJECTED, Majority ?

The people of Ohio are as well pleased with Prohibition as were the people of Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Michigan, and Ontario.

If they register only the same percentage of gain in dry votes as in those four states and the Canadian Province THE BEER AMENDMENT WILL BE DEFEATED IN OHIO BY AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY.

PASSENGER ON CAR INJURED

Mrs. Beeabout, accompanied by her daughter was returning from a shopping trip to East Liverpool, and because of the crowded condition of the car, the former was compelled to stand in the aisle. At the corner of First street and Virginia avenue, the car gave a quick jerk forward, causing Mrs. Beeabout to become overbalanced falling upon the floor backwards. In the fall the woman struck the back of her head, being rendered unconscious by the blow. She was taken home aboard the car and Dr. C. R. Campbell summoned. Not until after 1 o'clock Sunday morning did the woman regain consciousness. An examination proved that she had sustained a badly wrenched back in the fall. Although she was badly bruised about the body no bones were broken.

GETS 28 EGGS A DAY NOW, FROM 34 HENS

Chas. C. White, Well-Known Breeder, Tells How. Costs Nothing to Try.

"I gave Don Sung to 34 utility Buff Orpingtons and the egg yield increased from 7 to 28 a day. Don Sung is a wonder and I am now giving it to all my hens regularly."—Chas. C. White, Manager Cherry Hill Farm, Blackville, Ind. Mr. White is the well known breeder and exhibitor. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 254 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Simple Home Remedy Advised For Rose And Hay Fever

Anyone Can Make a Pint For Trifling Sum and Used In Time May Prevent Annual Attack

"No matter how severe your yearly attack be, no matter how distressing or humiliating—its intensity can be reduced to a harmless, mildness."—says a Kentucky druggist who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unconquerable cases reduced to what might be called a mild cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack the unwelcome yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity. People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Pour one ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle daily as directed and sniff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

Mentholized Arcline in one ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

The trio will be indicted on charges of grand larceny and tried next week when the petit jury convenes. Albert Snyder, who also escaped with Minter, is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Snyder was arrested in Chester while in the act of soliciting funds for "a widow with seven children," whose home in Gas Valley, he declared, had been burned to the ground. Other less important cases will be aired at this term of court.

SCHOOLS HERE ARE CROWDED

Ways and means of relieving the crowded conditions that exist in the Chester schools will be discussed at a meeting of the Chester board of education, to be held in the office of Supt. E. E. Oldaker, in the Central school building at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening. It was officially started by members of the board Monday morning that Chester must have another building in the near future, if the same results are to be obtained. At the present time, the first grade pupils are able to attend but half day sessions, while crowded conditions also exist in other grades. One of the rooms in the basement of the Central building is being utilized as a class room, while another grade has been established in a store room in the McDonald building, Fifth street. According to the present plans, a new high school building will be constructed, the upstairs rooms in the Central building, now being occupied by the pupils of the four high school classes to be given over for grammar work. ## Too Ill to Work in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY, 426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another

Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."—Mrs. I. OVENSTEIN, 902 S. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

DRY VICTORY IS PREDICTED

In a statement issued Monday, S. P. Ankrim, manager of the Columbiana County Dry Maintenance league predicted an overwhelming victory for the Ohio dry forces at the general election, November 4.

"The four proposals of the wets," Mr. Ankrim said, "have awakened the people of our entire county, as indeed they should when the great benefits coming from prohibition everywhere.

"Columbiana county stands today the third highest dry in the eighty-eight counties. Her majority dry last year was 3502 which we are quite sure will be materially increased this year.

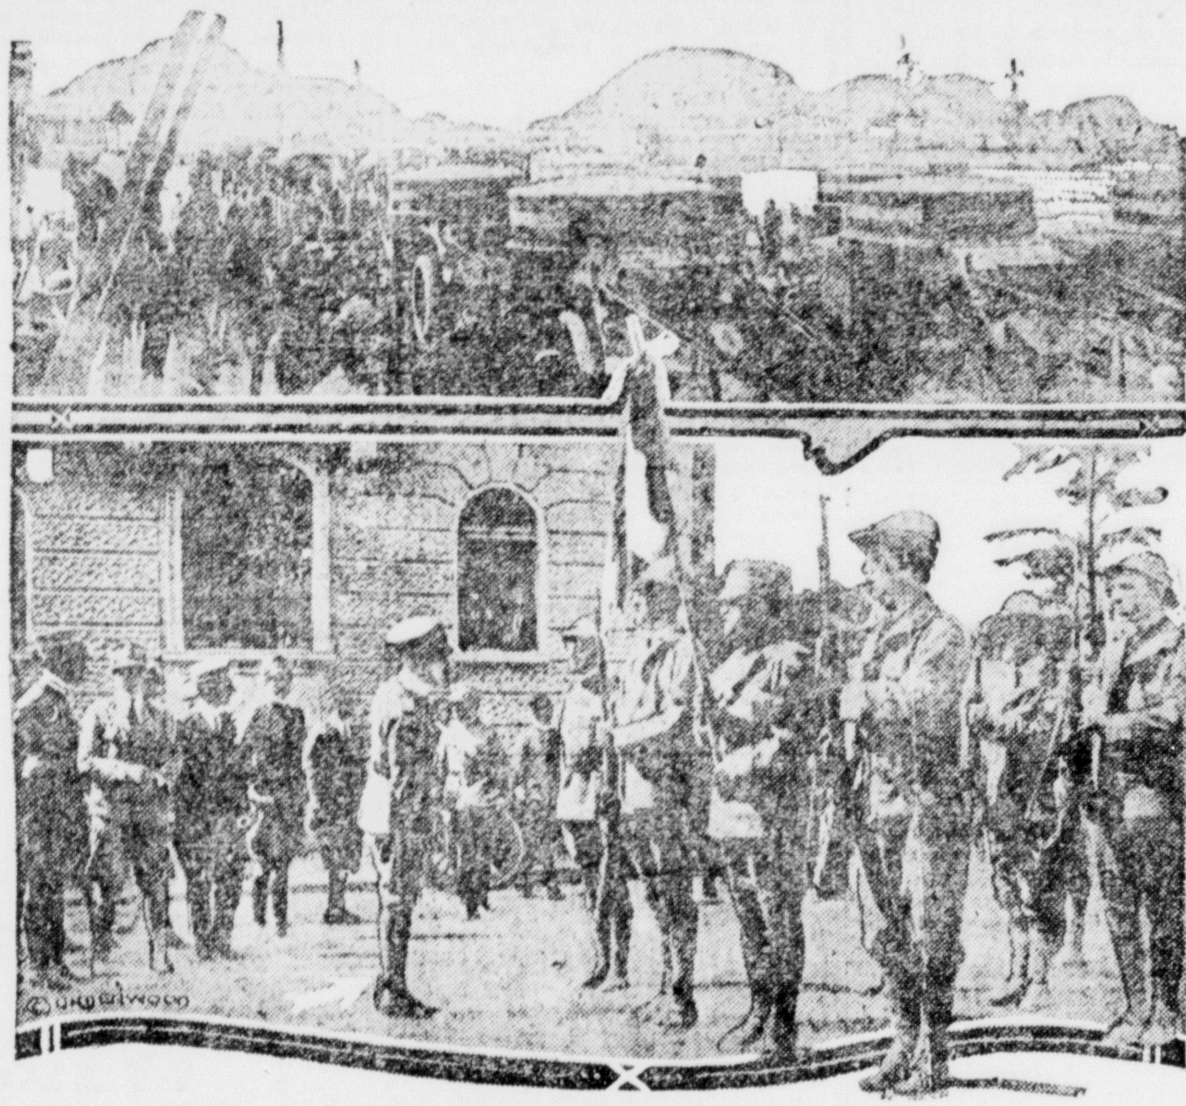

"For months we have heard the story from the wets, 'Vote our Protests November 4.' Now we think that is just what you should do. Look all around and see if you can see some good results from a saloonless state. See if you cannot find some of your friends that are sober all the time that were not before May 27. See if you cannot find men more fit for work every day; men more orderly on the streets and street cars and in fact wherever you go. If you find jails empty, if you find children better clothed and fed, if you find men paying their debts that they could not while drinking, if you find fewer murders, less crime and fewer drunks everywhere, why shouldn't you vote your protests against all four of the wet proposals?"

"All our industrial centers are busy in this big country. Go out to the farm. Go to the road contractors the street, home and factory contractors and the one crying need is more men, more men everywhere. All are busy and inasmuch as the old rounders have all gone to work and we are still short of men, to return to the old wet regime would be the crime of the age.

"Do you know that the eyes of the nation are on us? If Ohio votes wet we take one of the states out that was amendment to the constitution and another will have to be substituted and we may be wet another year till a new declaration comes into effect. More than this, the entire world is looking at us. America must be the leader in making the world dry. Ohio, the mother of presidents and the rising place of two martyred presidents, honored by God with the richest soil and the best of people must not fail the world.

"No better men live anywhere than the newspaper men of Columbiana county. All of them ready to assist in our advertising matter. Not a wet

Gabriele d'Annunzio, the Italian poet, is still in control of the situation at Fiume, despite the appeals of the allies, including his own government, to get out. The Ital-

CENSUS ENUMERATORS ARE WANTED HERE

That East Liverpool seemingly has not sufficient pride to exhibit much concern over the approaching fourteenth national census, is the opinion expressed by Alan E. McLane, Steubenville, supervisor of census for the 17th Ohio census district in a letter received here Monday.

Many precincts in the city have not yet been assigned census enumerators, McLane writes, although every effort has been made by him to secure census takers. Actual taking of the census will start January 2. Applicants for positions of census enumerators must file their applications with Alan E. McLane, Steubenville.

WAVES RED PETTICOAT AND PREVENTS WRECK

ROME, Ga. — Waving his wife's red flannel petticoat, Morgan Smith, of Lavender, Ga., flagged a passenger train on the Central of Georgia and brought it to a stop within a few feet of a broken rail, thereby preventing a disastrous wreck. A southbound freight train had evidently broken the rail. Young Smith, who resides nearby, was passing the place, noted the break and knowing that the train was due made haste to improvise a danger signal and flag the north bound train that was laden with hundreds of pleasure seekers bound for the Chattanooga county fair at Summerville.

Who Wants the Saloon Back?

"2.75"

THE CRIME OF THE AGE

TWO AMENDMENTS to the State Constitution are up for vote November 4. The passage of either one will put beer in a class with pop and lemonade and let it be sold without license, at any time, any place.

EVERY SODA FOUNTAIN AN OPEN SALOON

Not since the fight on booze began has there been a bolder, more cruel counter-attack put forth by selfish wet interests than the present attempt to take the lid off "2.75."

Beer containing 2.75% of alcohol by WEIGHT contains 3.45% by VOLUME (U. S. Dept. Agr. table). Conferees in Congress have set one-half of one per cent by volume as the limit for non-intoxicating drinks.

A glass of "2.75" contains three spoonfuls of alcohol.

Three glasses have the kick of two drinks of whiskey.

"2.75" IS INTOXICATING. Writing a lie into Ohio's constitution will not change the fact

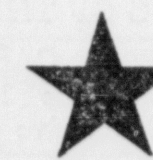

Declare "2.75" non-intoxicating, and any soda fountain or corner grocery may sell it openly.

Children may have their choice between real booze and strawberry soda.

Your child may sit at the soda fountain or bar alongside the tough with his "2.75."

Beer saloons can operate 24 hours a day in any neighborhood, seven days a week, the year round.

Let the manhood and womanhood of Ohio arise in their might and protect their homes, their sons and daughters, against the return of the saloon.

They Have Tried This in Other States With Poor Success. IN NO STATE HAVE THE BREWERS WON

REV. P. J. REYNOLDS TENDERS RESIGNATION

Rev. Paul J. Reynolds of the First United Presbyterian church of Chester tendered his resignation Sunday morning to become effective December 31.

The pastor's intentions of resigning from the local church first became known about a week ago, at a meeting of the Steubenville presbytery, with which organization the Chester church is affiliated. He tendered his resignation to the local congregation about a week ago, but it was not accepted at that time, the board of the church asking Rev. Mr. Reynolds to reconsider his action. He took the matter under advisement but on Sunday notified the members of the church that he had not changed his mind.

Rev. Mr. Reynolds' resignation must receive favorable action by the Steubenville Presbytery before it will be effective.

Preparatory Service.

Preparatory to the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, which will be administered at the First United Presbyterian church next Sunday, a special service will be held in the church at 7:30 o'clock, next Friday evening. Rev. Paul J. Reynolds will preach at this time. All members of the congregation have been asked to be present at this service.

COUNTY GRAND JURY IN MEET

The Hancock county grand jury Monday morning was hearing evidence in the case of Allen H. Minter, East Liverpool man, who recently escaped from the Hancock county jail, and charged with burglarizing the Chester hardware store here. Minter, at the present time, is being held at Columbus, O., following his arrest in Steubenville about a week ago, after he had looted two homes in that city.

GETS 28 EGGS A DAY NOW, FROM 34 HENS

Chas. C. White, Well-Known Breeder, Tells How. Costs Nothing to Try.

"I gave Don Sung to 34 utility Buff Orpingtons and the egg yield increased from 7 to 28 a day. Don Sung is a wonder and I am now giving it to all my hens regularly."—Chas. C. White, Manager Cherry Hill Farm, Blackville, Ind.

Mr. White is the well known breeder and exhibitor. He wrote the above letter in December, after his test had shown a gain of 21 eggs a day from 34 hens. We will make you the same offer we made him. Here it is:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 264 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Simple Home Remedy Advised For Rose And Hay Fever

Anyone Can Make a Pint For Trifling Sum and Used In Time May Prevent Annual Attack

"No matter how severe your yearly attack be, no matter how distressing or humiliating—its intensity can be reduced to a harmless, mildness."

says a Kentucky druggist who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unconquerable cases reduced to what might be called a mild cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack the unwelcome yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity. People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Pour one ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle daily as directed and sniff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true remedy.

Mentholized Arcline in one ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

Not only will it make your teeth clean and white, but it will at once remove any filmy coating, help to check the ravages of Pyorrhea and banish acidity in the mouth.

The cases of Harry Ellwell of East Liverpool; Willard W. E. Llewellyn of Chester and F. E. Edwards of Parkersburg, charged with the thefts of ware from the T. S. & T. pottery, are also being investigated Monday. The trio will be indicted on charges of grand larceny and tried next week when the petit jury convenes.

Albert Snyder, who also escaped with Minter, is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Snyder was arrested in Chester while in the act of soliciting funds for "a widow with seven children," whose home home in Gas Valley, he declared, had been burned to the ground.

Other less important cases will be aired at this term of court.

SCHOOLS HERE ARE CROWDED

Ways and means of relieving the crowded conditions that exist in the Chester schools will be discussed at a meeting of the Chester board of education, to be held in the office of Supt. E. E. Oldaker, in the Central school building at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

It was officially stated by members of the board Monday morning that Chester must have another building in the near future, if the same results are to be obtained. At the present time, the first grade pupils are able to attend but half day sessions, while crowded conditions also exist in other grades. One of the rooms in the basement of the Central building is being utilized as a class room, while another grade has been established in a store room in the McDonald building, Fifth street.

According to the present plans, a new high school building will be constructed, the upstairs rooms in the Central building, now being occupied by the pupils of the four high school classes to be given over for grammar work. In the construction of a new high school the board plans to establish facilities for manual training and domestic science courses, which have been introduced in the Chester schools.

Too Ill to Work

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old. I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."

—Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY, 426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another

Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."—Mrs. I. OVENSTEIN, 902 S. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

TWO-MILL TAX LEVY ENDORSED BY SALEM

At the meeting on the two-mill road levy in the rooms of the Salem Chamber of Commerce Friday evening, addressed by County Commissioner John H. Hinchliffe, the proposition was unanimously endorsed.

Mr. Hinchliffe said that the two-mill road levy was not the county commissioners' fight, but the workingmen's fight, the farmer's fight, the business men's fight, and the fight of everybody interested in improved roads and in how best to secure them. "The two-mill levy is," he said, "a fifty fifty, dollar-for-dollar proposition, and if adopted by the electors, would secure state and federal aid for improving the county's roads. Every dollar of the tax-payers' money for roads would be declared, be matched by another dollar from the state and the federal governments."

Seek County Aid
It was decided that $1,200 was to be spent on the road improvement. The commissioners agreed to pay $500, the trustees $500 and the abutting property owners, $200.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

School Teachers In New England May Strike

A special convention of the National Union Teachers held a few days ago at Birmingham passed resolutions calling for 100 per cent increase of salaries above the present rates.

The teachers were discontented with the recommendations of the joint committee appointed by the government. The chairman declared that if the joint committee offered a minimum of less than $1,000 it "would find it had put its fingers into a hornet's nest and the whole profession would be up in arms."

The use of the strike weapon as a last resort was advocated by various speakers, and it was also suggested parents should be warned to keep their children out of the profession failing a satisfactory increase.

More than 100,000 positions in the public schools are either vacant or filled by teachers below standard, according to a report of the National Education Association made public recently.

The report also states that attendance at normal schools has decreased 20 per cent since 1916.

We have heard a lot about the daring cameraman who went into the trenches to take pictures, or into the jungles or through all kinds of unexplored wilds, but is unusual for a woman to do such things. Miss Louise Lowell, a young aviatrix in her early twenties, has just been engaged by the Fox News in the capacity of "cameramaid," Mr. Fox claims that she is the first cameramaid in motion pictures.

Miss Lowell is peculiarly fitted for her unique work, for she has traveled over most of the world and always, since she was old enough to use a camera, has one accompanied her on her trips. This young woman has had a most interesting life. Born of an American father and a British mother in Samoa, she was educated by private tutors in India and China. Her mother died when she was ten years old; the family was then in Shensi, China. Following that she went with her father into Tibet.

She knows the far east, the near east, the new world and the old world by actual contact.

In Great Britain she first became interested in aviation. She holds a pilot's license and made several trips over the enemy lines during the great war. Miss Lowell was a warm friend of Roland Garros, the noted French ace, and is now driving a Spad that he used.

The first assignment which was given to this brave and accomplished young woman was to cover the Prince Wales' trip through Canada. She has been given a roving assignment and will fly over the country here and there and take news pictures which you may see some time at your own favorite motion picture house.

AN APPEAL TO REASON

When you vote tomorrow you will get a separate short ballot like this:

X	"For an additional levy of taxes for the purpose of constructing, reconstructing, maintaining and repairing county roads, etc."	YES
	"For an additional levy of taxes for the purpose of constructing, reconstructing, maintaining and repairing county roads, etc."	NO

The success of this ballot tomorrow means much to the future prosperity of East Liverpool and Columbiana county

You should vote "YES" for these reasons:

1. If the Levy FAILS, ten years hence we will have a second class lot of roads; will be a million dollars in debt, and will pay out over one-half million dollars in interest on that debt.
2. If the Levy CARRIES, within 10 years, we will be entirely out of debt for road purposes, and Columbiana County will have a system of splendid improved highways second to none in Ohio, linking up every town and village in the county.
3. If the levy carries, we will obtain AID from State and Federal governments amounting this coming year to $200,000. To get this, we must match them dollar for dollar.
4. If the levy fails, we lose a large part of this State and National aid to which we are justly entitled.
5. If the levy fails, the County Commissioners will levy a tax of 1½ mills without the voter's consent. East Liverpool and Wellsville will raise a large share of the money and will get nothing in return, because the State Code provides that the funds raised from the 1½ mill levy can be used only on state highways.
6. If the 2 mill levy carries, the Commissioners can expend the money where ever they deem necessary, and have promised East Liverpool and Wellsville that our share of the funds raised will be expended in improving roads in this vicinity.

7. Which do you prefer? Pay 2 mills voluntarily and profit immensely therefrom; or pay 1 1-2 mills compulsorily, and get nothing in return

HERE ARE FIGURES ON OHIO MINERS

There are 44,497 persons in Ohio's 1,223 mines. In 1918 they earned $60,875,426, averaging 207 working days during the year. In 1917 they mined 47,918,000 tons. The production when the keeping of statistics on the industry began in 1889 was 10,360,000 tons. Of last year's production 44,243,600 tons were sold for shipment, while 1,663,000 tons were sold for use in the vicinity of the mines. The remainder of the production was used in operating mine power houses, many companies making their own power where high tension electric lines are not available.

Belmont county leads the state in coal production, producing 12,165,253 tons last year and having 11,263 mine employees. Jefferson county was second with 7,226,314 tons. These two counties with Harrison and Monroe form the east Ohio field, which is under control of sub-district No. 5 of the miner's union with headquarters in Bridgeport. This field has 140 local unions, 16 of the number being in the Panhandle of West Virginia, where 1,800 union men are employed. The area of the sub-district lies between Brilliant, Jefferson county, on the north, and Dills, Belmont county, on the south with Bailey's Mills, Holloway, Blairmont and Hopedale, formerly the western boundary, and Collier's and Moundsville, W. Va., the eastern line. The union has 16,000 members in this territory.

The mining industry took a toll of 135 lives last year. This number will be exceeded this year, it is expected, due to Wednesday's disaster at Amsterdam. Belmont county reported 48 miners killed, while Guernsey was second with third with 13, while Tuscarawas and Athens each had eight.

The 1917 statistics follow: Wages, $44,942,666; production, $41,677,986.

William E. Cress, No. 198 Merrimac St., Mt. Washington, Pa., Tells Story.

Plant Juice, the new herbal system tonic, is a purifying and vitalizing agent. It corrects local disorders of the stomach, which is being demonstrated daily and verified by well known local people in signed statements.

For instance, Mr. William E. Cress, who resides at No. 198 Merrimac Street, Mount Washington, was born and raised in Pittsburgh, and is a trusted employee of the largest furniture company in this city, stated:

"I have suffered with chronic constipation for years. My stomach was also affected, and my food fermented and caused gas, which gave me great distress. I was nervous and restless and could not sleep at night and felt all worn out in the morning and totally unfit for work. Every medicine I tried failed to relieve me, and I felt so discouraged I did not know what to do. Finally I heard of Plant Juice, and began to take it. I felt relieved from the first dose, and have certainly gotten splendid results from it, as it has completely relieved my constipation, toned my stomach up in fine condition, I sleep well and my general health is fine. I will be glad to recommend Plant Juice."

Plant Juice is a vegetable tonic, extracted from the roots, herbs, barks and berries of numerous medicinal plants. It is Nature's own remedy and works wonders. It gives almost immediate benefit and it leads to permanent relief in practically every case where people suffer as above outlined.

Plant Juice is sold in East Liverpool at Larkins Drug Store.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth
At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos (which contain alkalis) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains these elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

PROVE FOR YOURSELF
Get a box of the genuine Kotalko at a reliable druggist's $3.00.00 GUARANTEE with each box. A small testing box of Kotalko (with testimonials, etc.) may be obtained by sending ten cents, silver or stamps, to my address below.

Mrs. Schmitt was hostess to the Amethyst club at her home at Heacock's Crossing Wednesday evening. The home was beautifully decorated in yellow and black suggestive of Halloween. A chicken supper was served.

The Sterling club featured Halloween with a masquerade party held in their club rooms, at which about 40 were present. The evening was spent in music, dancing and feasting. The mothers of the members served a luncheon.

Members of three of the Sunday school classes of the U. P. church held a masquerade at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hamilton. Music and games were the diversions.

MANY HOMES IN TOWN COALLESS

Many Newell homes are coalless, the cold weather, fast approaching, as the result of the strike of the bituminous coal miners, which became effective last Friday at midnight.

Although dealers supplying the local trade claimed to have shipments on the road, the government's action during the latter part of the week, when it was seen the strike could not be averted, in seizing all coal in transit, make it impossible to secure deliveries at any price here.

Lawrence Baxter, of Chester, who assists in supplying the local trade had a carload of coal ready for delivery last Friday. He had brought three teams to Newell intending to fill the orders which had been placed by local consumers but just as he was about to commence unloading, the car was shifted to a siding where it could not be reached by teams. The railroad men claimed that they were acting under orders from the government in moving the car to a position where it could not be unloaded.

The local potteries which operate partially with coal face a complete suspension of operations soon, in case the strike should continue. Both plants fire their boilers with coal, but their present stocks will not last long with no deliveries to replenish their bins.

Many local people laid in their winter's supply of coal during the summer when the fuel was cheap but those who failed to place their orders earlier will not be able to secure deliveries until a settlement is reached in the present controversy.

75 BROOM FACTORIES IN WEST VIRGINIA

The establishment of 75 broom factories throughout the state, and the increase of acreage of broom corn grown in West Virginia from 40 to 200 per cent less than a year has resulted from a campaign conducted by the State Department of Agriculture. It is estimated the development of this industry will save the residents of the state close to $1,000,000, as heretofore, all the brooms used in this state were purchased outside of West Virginia. The only brooms made in West Virginia were those manufactured by the convicts in the state penitentiary at Moundsville. A broom making machine will be installed in the quarters of the State Department of Agriculture to teach broom making.

REV. HERMAN HOSACK OPENS REVIVAL MEET

Two good meetings were held at the First Presbyterian church, Sunday the opening of the two weeks' revival campaign. Rev. Hermann Hosack, pastor of the church occupied the pulpit at both the morning and evening services. Special music by the choir featured both meetings.

Rev. Edwin McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Meadville, Pa., is expected to arrive in Newell, Monday afternoon, and will occupy the pulpit at Monday night's services which will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. McIlvaine will preach every evening this week with the exception of Saturday.

Rev. H. F. Laughlin of East Liverpool will act as choir director at the services this week.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW WEIRTON MILLS

The first railroad derrick to be used in construction work for the new open hearth and rolling mills of the Weirton Steel company, has arrived, marking the start of the new plants by the McClintic-Marshall Construction company of Pittsburgh, Pa.

A field superintendent from the McClintic-Marshall company is also in Weirton and is going over plans for the new plants. Actual work of construction will be started within a few days, it is announced.

Structural steel started arriving on the new open hearth mill site a few days ago. Many tons have already been unloaded in the mill yards and other material is now on railroad sidings near Weirton.

The new open hearth mill will be one of the largest and most up to date in the country.

Excavation work was started early this summer and most of the concrete foundation work is now completed. The Jack Walsh company, which has charge of the foundation work, now has about 1500 workmen on the job.

ROLL CALL IS OPENED HERE

The Red Cross roll call campaign opened in Newell Monday morning, when cards were distributed through the local potteries. The head of each department in the local plants has been asked to head the work in his department, asking every employee of the works over which he has supervision, to join.

In order to enroll those who are not employed in the shops a house-to-house canvass is to be made by the women. An effort will be made to make Newell "100 percent Red Cross," during this campaign. Although a nine-day period has been allotted for the drive to secure membership—Nov. 2 to 11, an effort will be made to finish the work here before Saturday.

Rev. W. J. Allen, county chairman of the Roll Call drive has named Sterling Carson head of the local committee.

Four of this number were Newell residents.

Many Newell Masons, who are members of the Chester lodge, attended the final event of the reunion—a banquet and a dance, held Friday night. About 500 Masons and their wives were in attendance.

The Hancock county men taking the final degrees include: Allan M. Fisher, Marion L. Swann, Arthur Knisely and William A. Jones, Newell; Nick Stewart, Dr. Miller Wells, A. C. Piper; and William T. ## NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

Thomas Meighan is staging a return just like those Moore brothers. Tom has usually appeared in support of some beautiful feminine star who took all of the laurels as far as press notices and electric lights went. But the girls have always been strong for Tom, even if he wasn't starred in his own right, and they flocked to see him.

He has played with such stars as Mary Pickford, Marguerite Clark, Billie Burke and Norma Tadmage. For some time little was heard of him and then he reappeared, playing for the most part in all-star productions. Tom's most recent success was in "The Miracle Man," a play which has had record runs in almost every city where it has been shown. Here Tom came into his own again. Although there were several other important parts which were well acted, Tom Meighan showed once more that he should be starred.

His next production will be "The Admirable Crichton," a Barrie play which has been adapted to the screen. Here the admirable Tommy plays Crichton, the admirable butler. The play promises much in the way of entertainment and it surely gives Mr. Meighan a part of considerable possibilities. Gloria Swanson plays the leading feminine role.

Popular Novels Screened.
Productions by the two great American novelists is the next undertaking of Eminent Authors' Pictures, Inc. Work will begin at the Goldwyn studio in Culver City soon on "Dangerous Days," by Mary Roberts Rinehart, and "Tower of Ivory," by Gertrude Atherton. Both of these famous writers have had novels presented on the screen before, but this is the first time they have gone to the studio and worked on the lot with the editorial and directing staff. Both are in California at the present time.

More Salary for Priscilla
Priscilla Dean's smile these days is one of extreme satisfaction. Priscilla recently indulged in a temperamental spree out at Universal City and won in a canter. The cause of the ruction was a more salary demand on the part of Priscilla. She is accounted one of the most profitable stars on the Universal pay roll and full realizing her value she "gave notice." The usual heated arguments followed, but it all resulted in a new contract and the resumption of studio work by the star.

Carroll McComas, recognized as one of the leading actresses of the spoken stage, was answered the call of the silent drama and has signed a contract with Famous Players-Lasky as leading woman in the forthcoming production of "Jack Straw," in which Robert Warwick will star under the direction of William C. DeMille.

Though Miss McComas has been belittled with offers from motion picture producers in the past, she steadfastly refused to give up or interrupt her stage career and officials of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation deem themselves fortunate in inducing her to make her bow in Shadowland in Paramount-Afterart pictures.

Miss McComas is a Los Angeles girl and daughter of the late Judge Charles Carroll McComas, a celebrated jurist. Her first professional appearance was as a whistler on the Orpheum circuit. Her rise to fame was sensational and she has scored triumph after triumph, not only as a dramatic actress, but also as a star in musical comedies.

Most of Miss McComas' stage work has been done on Broadway, New York. She was with Charles Frohman for five seasons, scoring her most pronounced success in "The Dollar Princess." She was with John Drew in "Single Man" and in David Belasco's "Seven Chances." "Oh, Lady, Lady," a musical comedy, was an individual triumph for her.

She did "The Walk Offs" on Broadway and then left for overseas, where for six months she gave three performances a day entertaining Uncle Sam's fighting men. She returned to her home the last day of July and was just ready to leave for New York to take up her stage career again when Famous Players-Lasky won her over to motion pictures.

"FLO FLO," MUSICAL SHOW, BOOKED HERE

The Ceramic theatre management is happy in being able to announce the coming engagement of John Cort's musical comedy triumph "Flo Flo," which has recently closed and all year run at The Cort Theater, New York and successful engagement in Boston and Chicago. It comes to this city with a large and brilliant company including Hazel Alger, Ben Hastings, Carl George, Augustus Buell, Eddie Lloyd, EM Lorraine, Elsa Thomas, George Pierce, Frank Masters. "Flo Flo" is claimed to be the most goved musical attraction produced in years.

FEATURE OFFERING AT STRAND MONDAY

Virtually an all-star cast presents the Paramount-Afterart special picture, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," Hall Caine's masterpiece, directed by Hugh Ford, which will be shown at the Strand theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The role of Mary MacNeill is portrayed by Katherine MacDonald, one of the most beautiful of actresses, who will be remembered for her excellent work as Lady Diana in "The Squaw Man," a Cecil DeMille Afterart special, and for her work in support of Douglas Fairbanks and William S. Hart as well as in other notable pictures.

Milton Sills, seen on several occasions as leading man for Clara Kimball Young, a well known actor of the screen, is cast as Martin Conrad, the intrepid young explorer, whose love for Mary is one of the inspiring features of the theme.

Theodore Roberts, the veteran character actor, is Daniel McNeill, the stern and unyielding father of Mary. He is hard as flint, proud as Lucifer—and he sacrifices in child on the altar of his selfishness.

Jack Holt, who was "Cash Hawks" in "The Squaw Man," plays the heavy role of Lord Ran, the scapegrace of a noble family. The part is despicable one, and it is a tribute to an actor's genius that he is able to interpret it in such convincing fashion as Jack Holt has done.

ritzi Brunette, a well known screen actress, depicts the adventures, Alma Lier, and does it with great art and a verisimilitude that is rare even in these days of finished acting. The difficult character becomes real and convincing in Miss Brunette's capable hands.

H. B. Warner, famous actor of two continents, has an excellent opportunity to exploit his talents in "The Pagan God," a Superior Picture produced by Jesse D. Hampton and distributed by Exhibitors Mutual at the Diamond theatre Monday.

"The Pagan God" is a story of the Orient with Warner in the role of Bruce Winthrop, an American diplomatic agent who becomes involved in the intrigues of a Chinese "Tong of Freedom" revolutionary society which is plotting to steal the throne of Mongolia. Things begin to happen when Winthrop apparently falls heels over

The curio-collecting father of Beryl Addison, Winthrop's sweetheart drags his daughter and himself into a fearful mess when he comes into possession of a jade idol, which unknown to him, contains a secret list of the members of the Tong. #### "THE WANDERER," BIG SHOW, AT CERAMIC

Three thousand years ago men gambled with loaded dice in the city of Jerusalem, just as today men use the same kind of gambling device to fleece strangers by means of crooked dice. In the big scene of "The Wanderer" the famous Biblical spectacle which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest will present at the Ceramic two days, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 4-5, there is a gambling scene which is based upon actual historical facts.

This scene shows Jether, the shepherd boy of Palestine, who has gone to Jerusalem to squander a fortune, gambling with loaded dice in the house of Nadina, an unscrupulous woman whose home is dedicated to wine, women and song.

In this scene Jether, the prodigal son (played by Robert Frazier) uses the loaded dice in a fit of jealous rage when he sees Tisha, the girl he loves, about to accept a present from another suitor who is wealthier than he. Jether, like the prodigal son, has spent all of his substance in riotous living. Nadina, the landlady, whispers to him that if he will use the loaded dice she gives him, he can never lose. At first he indignantly refuses, but then, stung to desperation, he takes the dice and the following scene takes place.

Put, a wealthy young member of the aristocracy, picks up the dice and casts them for 1,000 shekels. The dice as used in Jerusalem was a trifle larger than those used today, but the game was to throw with two dice and see who could throw the highest. Put (threw) seven. Jether, with a sweep of his hand removes the good dice from the table and substitutes the false dice with which he throws twelve.

"Let us throw for another thousand shekels," cries Put, drinking a glass of wine. Jether returns the good dice, telling him to throw first, and he does so, this time throwing nine.

Once more Jether changes the dice and again he throws twelve.

"Four thousand shekels," cried Put, "let us double the stakes again."

Once more Jether is about to throw, when Merbal, one of the parasites of Jerusalem, interferes, takes the dice from Jether's hand and points out to the gamblers that the dice are loaded and that they will always come twelve.

"A cheat!" cried Merbal. "Jether

But Put, like many a wealthy son of today, fears the police and the publicity, and so Jether is allowed to depart, after Nadina strips him of his fine clothes, and Tisha laughs at him with scorn as she goes off with the Sea Captain.

The boy, broken-hearted and penniless, returns to his father's home to win forgiveness.

The gambling scene of "The Wanderer" has been pronounced a great moral lesson and every young man who sees it must be impressed by the force and strength of this great act, which shows that the straight and narrow road is the only path to righteousness. All the clergymen who have seen "The Wanderer" agree that this gambling scene is a strong exposition of evil that ought to deter young men from ever entering a gambling house.

"I have suffered for quite a while with sluggish liver, at times I would get so dizzy I would have to stop and sit down; spots would dance before my eyes; I had headaches and a bad taste in my mouth; my appetite became poor and my food did not digest nor give me strength; my stomach was often sour, while gas and bloating caused me much uneasiness. The pains often extended round to my back and limbs so that it was an effort to keep on with my work," says Mr. A. C. Rex, member of the firm of Rex Bros. of Harrod, O., near Lima.

"There was so much talk about and praise being given Dreo, I decided to try it. The first bottle proved to me it was a good medicine, as it soothed my stomach and relieved the gas forming. I continued the treatment, and never have my appetite been so regular; my bowels are fine; the food digests and gives me strength; I don't have any more pains in my back or limbs, and haven't had a headache in a long time. Dreo is a good medicine and I gladly add my words of praise for it."

Dreo acts on the liver in a smooth, gentle manner, gradually working off the excess bile day by day. It is neither strong nor harsh and does not excite the muscles of the bowels as strong cathartics do.

It tones up the digestive organs and relieves gas on the stomach; puts an end to constipation; increases the appetite; gives strength to weak kidneys; restores tired nerves and induces sound sleep. Dreo is a great blood purifier and system cleanser.

All good druggists now sell Dreo, and it is highly recommended in this city by

Fatness Kills 31,000 Yearly

Fat is fatal to health and personality. It is estimated that over 31,000 persons have died each year from natural age simply because of excessive fatness. Fatness is a disease that is spreading rapidly and is a leading cause of death. It is a disease that is spreading rapidly and is a leading cause of death. It is a disease that is spreading rapidly and is a leading cause of death.

Through overindulgence the afflicted person while apparently well is liable to nervousness, irritability, physical or mental collapse and other disorders, for obesity is irritating. Cases of heart failure, apoplexy, stroke, etc., are frequent causes of premature death. Fat persons are particularly victims of accidents and are more liable than healthy, slender persons to death from throat, stomach, liver and other delicate parts.

If you are overweight you should know it is truly a case of slow suicide for you to kill yourself a case of slow suicide for you to kill yourself a case of slow suicide for you to kill yourself.

Because you do not emancipate yourself from the burden of unhealthy, unsightly fat. Moreover, your efficiency should be impaired by becoming obese. Your appearance should become spongy and more attractive. There is a scientifically sound method of weight reduction known as Korois system.

It consists of some simple directions with the use of oil of Korois. This method is so pleasant because it contains no thyroid or other such drastic ingredients, no strenuous exercises or starvation. Indeed, you may eat all you need. The Korois system is guaranteed to be perfectly harmless, recommended by physicians. A reliable self-treatment.

By reducing now you may expect greater contentment, happiness, increased mental and physical efficiency, better health and a longer life. Be fair to yourself and those who are dear to you. Surplus everything with your renewed vigor, vivacity and surprisingly superior personality. Get oil of Korois at the drug store without delay; or if more convenient, send $1.00 cash, stamps or money order to K. O. Cox, 22-60, Station P, New York, N. Y.

ALL STARS LOSE TO PATRICIANS

After showing a classy looking back-field in action in front of Weaver's Sunday morning and following a perfectly grand exhibition on line plunging and end running along the Y. & O. tracks later the All Stars went to Youngstown in the afternoon and watched the Patricians perform. The Patricians demonstrated the quickest way to run up 49 points that the All Stars have had the good fortune to witness this season.

It was a spectacular game, while it lasted for the Youngstown aggregation. The Patricians have one of the fastest independent clubs in this part of the state. The All Stars are sure of this. But the slaughter was not so bad when all things are considered. The All Stars lined up with Pollock on left end; Kinsey, left tackle; Walker, left guard; Dill, center; Mayer, right guard; Mountford, right tackle; Mundy, right end; Hunselman, quarter; Moore, right half; Bailey, left half; Bloom, fullback. All the All Stars were given a chance to star, however. Mountford was shifted to left half later in the game when Bailey went out with a bad shoulder and played a bang-up game. Plant got in at quarter for a period or so. And Sammy Broadbent played a tackle in the latter part of the engagement.

The Patricians proved what organization could do. Their attack could not be stopped. The only way the All Stars held them at all was by taking advantage of the breaks to get away for a few yards or so. The Pats would try a forward pass on each of the first three downs and if they failed each time they would make their ten yards on the final down by a plunge through the line. The Patrician quarterback intercepted two forward passes in the East Liverpool team's territory in the last five minutes of play for two touchdowns. And Ashbaugh kicked every goal made that afternoon. Ashbaugh, by the way, is the South High school coach, a former member of the once-powerful Patrician club when teams like Thorpe's Bulldogs were played, and a former member of Brown university.

The Patricians showed a disconcerting aerial attack. A good many of their passes were effective. F. E. Moore was the stumbling point to a great number of Patrician prospects. Griggs of Texas, circled at end for 21 yards and the second touchdown in the first period. In the second period, Griggs caught a punt and ran 55 yards for a touchdown.

BULLDOGS WIN FROM INDIANS

CANTON, Nov. 2.—Canton's Bulldogs legitimized their claim to the professional football championship of the United States here this afternoon by repelling the attack of the Indians of Akron and winning, 19 to 7. They made their points in the first half, before the invaders fully realized what was happening.

Of the players that figured in the sensational battle, less than five were not classed as college stars, and nearly 10,000 people were on hand to cheer their favorites. Jim Thorpe and his Canton corps entered the game on the long end of the speculation. Thorpe played in the first half and in the fourth period, and his presence aided the Bulldogs in successfully registering points.

Canton got away to a flying start, scoring their first touchdown in the first five minutes. Lowe blocked Crawford's punt and Whalen recovered. Guyon circled end for 13 yards and O'Connor made the touchdown on a six-yard forward pass from Thorpe. Griggs of Texas, circled at end for 21 yards and the second touchdown in the first period. In the second period, Griggs caught a punt and ran 55 yards for a touchdown.

Akron's touchdown came in the fourth period after five successive first downs, four being through the line, for a total gain of 72 yards. Bryant went through center on the last plunge of two yards.

Touchdowns—Griggs 2, O'Connor, Bryant, Goals from touchdowns—Pierce, Crisp.

Substitutions: Canton—Telfer for Chamberlin, Chamberlin for Thorpe, Thorpe for Chamberlin, Gormley for Barron, Edwards for Pierce, Corcoran for Whalen. ## THORPE SIGNS ANOTHER STAR FOR HIS TEAM

CANTON Nov. 3.—Another star has been signed for the professional football eleven of Canton which now has settled down to the grim business of defending the national title, won in 1916 by a 24-0 victory over the Tigers of Massillon, the first big local game booked for League park Sunday afternoon with the Indians of Akron.

The newcomer is Devlin, a Holy Cross college quarterback who is considered a "stepper" if the word of other Bulldogs isn't off color. Devlin will come to Canton as soon as he can arrange business matters. He may be in the game Sunday against Akron. If he cannot get into togs at that time he will play against the Hammond, Ind., eleven at the White Sox ballyard in Chicago a week from next Sunday.

Devlin was signed by Coach Thorpe, Thursday. Thorpe has been out of the city several days, so Devlin wired business manager Hay that he would join the Bulldogs brigade as soon as possible. With Devlin in the lineup, Canton's back field will have added power, though it stands today as the classic combine of ball-toters in the race for professional championship honors.

Every Bulldog who knows Devlin by his work in the east is glad that he has come to terms with the management. Hay also expressed his pleasure in signing such a backfield star. The union between the eastern star and the Bulldogs came at about the same time that Hay definitely signed for the clash in Chicago with Hammond next Sunday.

That the Cantonian is doing everything in his power to put Canton on the map in a football way was impressed when he entered negotiations with Year's day in Atlanta, Ga. Providing the Bulldogs play in December in order to give the Tigers of Cleveland a chance at the title, there will not be any trouble to hold the squad together for a special engagement as world's professional champions New Year's day in the southland.

Officials: Referee—Durfee, Williams; Umpire—Lambert, Ohio State; Head Linesman—Daley, Ohio State; Time of periods—15m.

HIGH SCHOOL'S DOWNED AGAIN

Supporters of the local high school squad lost all hopes that the blue and white would bring a county championship to East Liverpool this fall when the school gridders lost to Lisbon at the county seat Saturday afternoon. The score was 12 to 0.

The East Liverpool team showed an aggressive attack and good defense but lost the ball on fumbles when they reached points of vantage from which they could have scored. At least twice the blue and white took the pigskin to within a few yards of the home club's goal line, only to lose possession by fumbling.

STRANGLER LEWIS WILL MEET CHAMP IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Joe Stecher, world's wrestling champion, and "Strangler" Lewis meet here at Madison Square Garden tonight in the first of a series of matches, according to the promoters, "to re-establish wrestling on a high plane." The promoters have announced that in case neither wrestler obtains a fall the spectators will receive their money back.

GRIDIRON MAP ALL MUSSSED UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The gridiron map is considerably mussed up today as a result of the unexpected defeats sustained by so many of the so-called big teams on Saturday. Princeton, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Brown, Lehigh and Williams are a few of the seats of learning whose football representatives failed to live up to their past performances. Colgate and Dartmouth battled to a 7-7 tie, thus saving one team from being listed among the casualties.

The way that West Virginia's representatives trampled over their Tiger rivals was the big surprise of the day of many unexpected reversals. The fact that Colgate was held to a 7-0 score by the Jungletown players a week before, makes West Virginia's win stand out in sharp contrast.

It was thought that a combination that could muster the strength and courage to hold Larry Bankhart's Colgate collegians to a single touchdown would experience little difficulty in keeping any other opponents from crossing its goal line. The overwhelming defeat sustained by the Tigers was wholly unlooked for.

It was known that Coach McIntyre has recruited a fair assortment of players down at Morgantown. Rogers played brilliant enough football in previous years to cause all local critics to respect his ability to gain against almost any rush line. However, no one expected to see the husky mountaineer back toy with his Princeton opponents as he did. His sensational playing earns him the right to be listed among the stars of the present day game.

Pennsylvania's defeat by Hugo Bezdek's State College pupils was every bit as startling as any other event of the day. The Quakers were 3 to 1 favorites before the teams took the field. Only the most loyal State college rooter dared back his eleven against the powerful machine.

Followers of the Bellefonte team would have been well satisfied with a small score defeat.

The fact that Dartmouth defeated State earlier in the season 19 to 16, caused a majority of football critics to misjudge the real strength of Bezdek's players. Against their red and blue rivals the Bellefonte collegians showed their real class.

The tie battle fought by representatives of Dartmouth and Colgate was not unexpected by many critics. Colgate has a great eleven, and so has Dartmouth. In fact, previous performances left little to favor either team to core a victory over its rival. Colgate beat Cornell and Princeton. Dartmouth was credited with wins over Penn State and Cornell. Dartmouth, too, was asked to fight before a home crowd. Any little advantage that might have favored Colgate in the matter of veteran material was offset completely by the staging of the contest at Hanover.

SPORTING GOSSIP

Whether Jack Dempsey, holder of the heavyweight championship, is going to fight this winter or not, is questionable, but he's getting a whole lot of advertising about it, anyway. First he is and then he isn't. Read: San Francisco—Willie Meehan of this city claims that he has received a telegram from Dave Mackey, of Newark, N. J., saying that final details for an eight round bout between himself and Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, at Newark, on December 8, had been arranged.

NEW YORK—After hitting a flock of snags, chances of a Dempsey fight in Jersey seem to have gone down for the proverbial third time. Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, called off the meeting in Chicago Sunday when he was to have put the heavyweight king on paper for a bout. That wasn't the only bump Dave Mackey, the Jersey promoter, ran against. His wire to Willie Meehan, the Frisco boy, for terms for a Dempsey bout, brought an answer for $12,000. Mackey made a counter proposal of $1,000 a round as long as he stayed with the champion, but before he had received an answer Kearns pulled stakes, saying he had been summoned to Chicago on business connected with the big movie project he is going to put Dempsey through. Kearns left word for Mackey that he could be found later in Los Angeles if there was to be any more talk of a fight.

Kid Gleason is planning a trade or two to be consummated this winter which will result in the bracing of his pitching staff, for the White Sox hurling corps must be strengthened if the team is to make a serious bid for the championship in 1920. Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams and Dick Kerr are about the only dependable pitchers he has at present and as Cicotte has retained his effectiveness much longer than the average pitcher it is certain that he will not last very much longer. He may be as good in 1920 as he was this year, but Gleason has no tangible guarantee of that and he cannot afford to take any chances. Incidentally, it is reported that the shrewd leader of the American league champions already has obtained Kerr's signature to a contract for next season.

Oberlin, Wooster and Akron. Today they are the big three in Ohio conference football. All have come through so far without a defeat. And unless a post-season game is played the season may end with a pair of claimants for the conference title.

Akron and Wooster will settle the question of superiority between eleven next Saturday.

Coach Bole's aggregation is supremely confident but the strength shown by Akron against Mt. Union last Saturday must not be discounted. However, on form to date, Wooster will go into the contest with an edge on the rubber town collegians.

Oberlin, it appears probable, will complete the season without a defeat and already the adherents of the congregationalists are laying claim to the title.

Wooster, however, if she emerges victor next Saturday against Akron will likewise be in position to make the same claim as Oberlin.

The elimination of Denison by Miami Saturday was the principal feature of the day's football in the conference.

HUGGINS WILL MANAGE YANKS NEXT SEASON

By N. E. BROWN

When New York fans, along in the latter part of 1919 baseball campaign, realized that they weren't going to get a pennant—that both of the flags were going to teams "in the provinces" they showed their poor sportsmanship by looking around for a goat.

They picked Huggins, pilot of the Yankees.

They blamed Huggins for everything, even to the wormy peanuts that found in the bags now and then.

"We'd have had a pennant in a walk with a decent manager," was their whine. "Let's get a good one."

But evidently the men who were paying Miller Huggins a goodly salary to fill their coffers with gold pieces were watching Huggins a little closer than were the fans. And they have shown their faith in the little gent by signing him up for next season.

Huggins deserves another chance. The Yankees finished third in a red-hot campaign—nothing for any team to be ashamed of.

One thing over which Hug had no control played the most important part in the team's failure to finish higher. That was the inability of Ernie Shore, former Red Sox star, to deliver the goods. When the Yank-owners obtained Lewis and Shore from the Sox last winter Huggins was satisfied. So was everyone else except the Red Sox fans. But Shore, out of baseball a year while serving in the navy, failed to regain his real form. This and the illness of Thor-mahlen forced Huggins to overwork Quinn and Shawkey and they broke under the strain.

When Huggins saw how things were going he urged the Yankee owners to land him a good hurler. He knew that Carl Mays was on the market. The Yankee owners went after the submarine hurler, but got him just too late. Mays' pitching put the Yanks into the running when they apparently were shot. But Mays alone couldn't pitch them to the top.

In addition to these unfortunate circumstances the fact stands out that the Yankees were guilty of boneheaded playing that could not be laid on Huggins' doorstep. The vets were as guilty as were the youngsters. You can lead a player to the game, but you can't make him think.

Huggins himself is optimistic about next season. The fact that Frank Baker may retire (again) doesn't worry him; Hug believes that Chick Fewster is ripe for the third base job. He also believes that another youngster named Glerich will be able to play the outfield acceptably if Duffy Lewis decides to quit the game.

ENTERTAINED CLASS AT CHICKEN SUPPER

Members of Class No. 6 of the Second U. P. Sunday school were entertained at a chicken supper, Saturday evening, at the home of their teacher, R. A. Ramsey, of High street. Supper was served by Mrs. Ramsey assisted by Mrs. Riebel. Covers were laid for the following guests, Blaine Riebel, Richard Hamilton, Ivan Finney, Francis Reid, Earl Polen, Harold Dotta, Edward Wilhelm, Samuel Harris, Earl Smith, Gordon Welsh, Robert Anderson and John Wilson. Misses Norma and Luella Riebel, and Elsie Mankin were guests of the class.

The remains of Mrs. Matilda Brasser, wife of Daniel Brasser, who died at her home in Erie street Monday will be taken to Crooksville Tuesday morning, where funeral services will be held. Mrs. Brasser was the daughter of Mrs. Richards of Crooksville, and with her husband has resided in the East End for the past four years. Besides her mother and husband she is survived by one brother and three sisters.

The remains may be viewed Monday evening at the home in Erie street, between the hours of 7 and 10.

Dayton—Dayton's boy pretzel magazine has been robbed, but he says he "don't need the police" as he knows the boy bandit who held him up at the noon hour and got away with $15.87 in change. Harold Thun is the magazine and when he was selling his wares near a school house another boy "roughed" him and left with the money, but 12-year old Harold says he will land the highwayboy.

DR. WILLIAMSON REPLIES TO J. R. CHAMBERS

In last week's issue of the Potters' Herald, J. Raymond Chambers accuses me of being a representative of the local street car co. I wonder if such accusation is the result of a guilty conscience on his part? Because at nearing the close of my term as councilman when I was strenuously opposing some of the things the street car company was doing, C. A. Smith (their general manager) in one of his profane outbursts said that "I opposed almost everything that the street car company had wanted ever since I had been a member of council." Of course he did not mean that as a compliment to me, yet I almost considered it as such, my only reply being that "I am employed by the city and NOT by the street car company." Gentlemen: Had it not been for the people of Wellsville refusing to concur in the actions of our own city council, we would now be paying an increased fare to the local street car company. Whom shall I thank? As regards the Taylor lot, it certain was an act of Providence that Mr. Chambers, or any one else, was prevented from spending any money on that old residence in an effort to convert it into a City hall, which would have been a disgrace to any civic pride possessed by East Liverpool citizens.

Now Gentlemen: The facts are as follows: While I was representing East End in the City Council, we asked for bids for the erection of an up-to-date City Hall and Market House on the Taylor lot. The money available at that time was approximately $90,000.00, (as the city had previously been bonded to the limit). The lowest bid was $177,000.00, therefore the proposition necessarily had to be abandoned at that time. During the present and past years (1918 & 1919), bonds to the amount of $116,603.54 have been paid off, making an amount that would have easily built a decent City Hall and Market House. Now, what has become of this money? Spent for improvement of streets down town, but not one cent spent in the East End. I am not opposed to improving streets where needed, but why not spend something in Ward one (East End)? where we pay the same rate of taxation as anywhere else in the city, but our property is not nearly so valuable, because of lack of some very much needed improvements, for one, I refer you to the last report of the sanitary officer made to the Board of Health, I could also tell you what became of the East End Sewer too, if anyone cares to know. Mr. Chambers says he looks after the interests of East Liverpool citizens. Has he forgotten that the East End is a part of East Liverpool?

Now, Gentlemen of Ward one, I know you will vote—not partially or politically, but intelligently at Tuesday's election.

THE STORY

Bruce Andrews, a mining engineer, having failed to find copper ore on his land in the Northwest, has turned his holdings into a sheep ranch. This adjoins the bonanza mine of Edmund Rawn, Burton Mortimer and Garson.

Rawn has a party of society friends on a week-end visit at his hunting lodge. In the party are Isabel Hollins, her aunt, Mrs. Bradley, and Mortimer—who is suitor for Isabel's hand. While the others descend into the mine, Isabel explores the surrounding country. Her foot is caught in a wolf trap. Bruce's dog discovers her and brings its master. Bruce releases the young woman, bandages her wound and starts with her for the lodge. Mortimer and Rawn meet the couple. Rawn makes a proposition that Bruce go to Chile to examine some copper holdings.

Isabel remains at the lodge several weeks, and Bruce falls in love. She invites him to call on her in the city.

Bruce accepts Rawn's offer in order to get enough money to enable him to propose to Isabel. Rawn tells Mortimer he wants Bruce out of the way so he can get hold of the ranch, which he believes is rich in ore.

Isabel, in the city, refuses Mortimer. Bruce, carried away by impulse, purposes and is accepted. The couple decide to marry at once.

Rawn persuades Bruce not to take his wife to Chile, alleging perils.

While Bruce is in the shaft of the Chilean mine, a dynamite charge imprisons him. Believing he has been killed, the American Consul cables the news to Isabel and Rawn. Later a baby boy is born to Isabel.

After days in the shaft Bruce digs himself free, but suffering has unbalanced his mind. He is found wandering by a native girl, who nurses him back to physical health, but his mind still is clouded.

A conspiracy hatched by Mortimer and Garson impoverishes Isabel. She is finally forced to sell the ranch to Garson. Through the insistence of her aunt and love for her boy, she then marries Mortimer. Soon a rich vein of ore is struck on what was Bruce's land.

Bruce regains his reason after five years. He returns to find his home deserted and his holdings being worked.

Going to the city and to Mrs. Bradley's house, he confronts Mortimer in the hallway and demands to see his wife. Mortimer makes Bruce promise to leave and see him at the office later.

Rawn, Mortimer and Garson have planned to "work" the copper market, and through the rich mine on Bruce's property are about to make millions.

Bruce, to save Isabel—he having learned she has remarried in the belief that he was dead—agrees, at the office meeting, to disappear. As he leaves Mortimer's office he encounters Slade, a former ranch hand who tells him all that has occurred in his absence. Bruce determines to wreak vengeance. He sees the opposition crowd and they plan by market manipulation to ruin the copper magnates. He returns to the office, locks the men in, and demands his property.

Seeing their stocks falling, they attempt to coerce Andrews at the point of a gun, but he gains the upper hand—and they sign the release. Bruce again possesses his property.

Isabel enters, Bruce steps forward, and husband and wife are reunited. Mortimer goes into another room and a shot is heard.

THE BIGGEST DRAMATIC SPECTACLE ON EARTH!

"The Wanderer"

Written by Maurice V. Samuels

Presented by F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest.

Millions of people have visited Oberammergau to see the wonderful Passion Play performed by the simple peasants. Thousands of people will visit the NEW Oberammergau to see the NEW Passion Play, "The Wanderer," at the Ceramic Theatre. "THE WANDERER" is the greatest aid to real religion the stage has ever presented as an adjunct of the church. The story of the play is taken from the Parable of the Prodigal Son of the Bible. The scenes are laid in the Holy Land and in Jerusalem three thousand years ago. The young boy, Jether, demands his portion, goes forth into the world, falls into the clutches of the siren, spends his substance in riotous living, and broken down and in rags, returns home as a beggar, only to win through A MOTHER'S UNDYING LOVE the forgiveness and the happiness which await all who have sinned and who truly repent.

FOR HATH NOT THE MASTER SAID: "THAT JOY SHALL BE IN HEAVEN OVER ONE SINNER THAT REPENTETH MORE THAN OVER NINETY AND NINE JUST PERSONS, WHICH NEED NO REPENTANCE."

See this great play, beautifully staged, and presented by a company of 100 people, including many of the greatest actors on the American stage.

WOMAN THOU
GAVEST ME

By Hall Caine Scenario by Beulah Marie Dix
Directed by HUGH FORD
A Paramount Artcraft Special

SHE KNEW HE WAS FALSE!

She knew that to him the marriage vow meant nothing. Yet she was his wife, bound to him by the law.

She knew that she had been sold to him to gratify her father's lust for power. Yet convention said she was his until death should set her free.

His, though her heart went out to another man who was good and brave and clean.

What did she do? Come and find out.

You'll say that this pulsing epic of a young wife's soul is the greatest woman drama you have ever viewed on the screen.

Hall Caine's sensational novel, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," stirred two continents. Here is the story, translate to living film by Hugh Ford, one of the master directors of America, and played by a brilliant cast, including Katherine MacDonald, Theodore Roberts, Milton Sills, Jack Holt and Fritz Brunette.

A picture that will startle you—thrill you—make you think. Don't miss it!
